Facts in brief

Viking Quest Adventure Golf

Keydata: 18-hole Adventure Golf course themed on Viking mythology and traditions. Built in 2019. Refreshments and bistro on site.

Theming: Viking

www.vikingquestadventuregolf.co.uk

Location: Moreton, Wirral, UK

John Andrew, owner of the Moreton Hills Golf Centre on the Wirral peninsula, Merseyside, chose a Viking theme for his new adventure golf course after reading about the Wirral area's fascinating Viking past, which goes back over a thousand years to when the Nordic seafaring pioneers first set foot in the region.

The magnificent 18-hole Viking Quest Adventure Golf course opened in the spring of 2019 after 4 months of construction. Every hole has its own Viking-inspired feature or obstacle, for example, hole 1 is played through the gaping jaws of Fenrir the monstrous wolf, hole 12 is played past a huge battle axe near a waterfall gushing out of a gigantic Viking helmet, and hole 16 takes you into a Viking longship. Where ponds separate two holes, the water crossing is made on a self-propelled ride-on/ride-off Viking raft.

Playing surfaces are made of high-quality synthetic putting grasses, which are resistant to UV colour degradation and very easy to maintain. A paved walkway surrounds the entire course. The facility is completely barrier free offering full access to guests with mobility disabilities. The layout of each hole offers two ways to reach the pin – an easier route for putting beginners and small children, and a more challenging route for aspiring mini golf champions! Great fun is guaranteed for players of all ages irrespective of putting skills or experience.

This absolutely unique adventure golf course was built primarily as a fun-filled attraction offering the customer a very fast return on investment. As projected, the course is attracting entirely new customer groups and is in high demand for parties and events. And, it contributes to increased earnings from food and beverages, as well as having a positive effect on golf-related sales.

Stefanie Schwarzkopf,

We have been looking for a replacement for our outaged minigolf and found this interesting and challenging design from City Golf. Our expectations have been far exceeded. Before people played the old minigolf to bridge the waiting time for our other attractions, now they are coming just to play this course. It is now an equal attraction in our portfolio. Lalandia, latin description for Danmarks fourth largest island Lolland, is a also the name of a well known attraction brand in Denmark. Lalandia has 3 different theme parks in the country and located at Lolland is Lalandia Rødby. In 2023 we had the opportunity to design a new Adventure Golf course there for Lalandia, the first one was built at Billund in 2009.

Lalandia in Rødby is located in a scenic area by the Baltic Sea with a lovely sandy beach. The holiday centre offers lots of fun activities, cosy restaurants and exciting shops. They can now also proudly introduce their visitors to an fun and adventurous indoor course at 12 holes. Integrated with the course is also a Football Billiards court, so safe to say that a lot more fun has entered the facilities in Rødby.

The course has something for all ages and have the Lalandia brand designed troughout the whole course. Putting past crocodiles and following the footsteps of wild animals. Who will best master the jungle?

The Fun and Safety manager at Rødby, Michell Ellehammer explains the project.

We choosed City Golf because of their professional approach to the project. After a good dialogue and various drafts, it resulted in a beautiful 12-hole course. It was important to us at Lalandia that the course was child-friendly, so that it creates joy for our guests. Our guests think the course is great!
